Alongside the declaration of office for Mayor Millwood were new Councillors Peter Reed (Division 1) and Ellen Jessop (Division 2), as well as returning Councillors Trudy Tschui (Division 3), Nicholas Pervan (Division 4), Jeff Baines (Division 5) and Renee McLeod (Division 6).

Mayor Millwood congratulated her fellow Councillors on their appointments and said she's looking forward to working with Council to deliver priorities for the community.

New Study Hub Brings Higher Education to Innisfail

The Cassowary Coast region is poised for a significant advancement in higher education accessibility with the announcement of funding for a regional university study hub in Innisfail, spearheaded by community-based organisation Vocational Partnerships Group (VPG).

Innisfail will soon be among the proud hosts of ten new Regional University Study Hubs across Australia, after a $16 million investment from the Federal Government aimed at providing more students from small towns access to tertiary education.

Maryanne Tranter, VPG Chief Executive Officer, expressed her elation at the announcement.

"This is an incredibly exciting time for the Cassowary Coast community.

"With the establishment of this study hub, locals will have the opportunity to pursue their higher education dreams confidently, knowing that they have the support and resources readily available to help them achieve their academic goals."

Sand Nourishment Project Halfway Mark South Mission Beach

South Mission Beach is half way through its sand nourishment program with 3,600t of sand recently transferred to site offering valuable protection to the foreshore during recent king tides.

An added bonus is that nature gave us a helping hand in naturally compacting and re-settling the new sand to offer our community a newly nourished beach.

The remainder of the works will soon commence with an overall 6,250t of sand to be delivered for this program.
